

You are absolutely entitled to your own personal political beliefs. I can appreciate how tempting it is to use the media power at your disposal, however, I urge you to ask yourself "is this the right thing to do?"

Please take the high road, and do not air such slander 2 weeks before a federal election. Certainly do not mandate your beliefs on your affiliates, and most importantly the American public at large.

Thank you.